

Resident Spotlight Ruth Daulton

Our spotlight this month features our retired teachers. Midland Meadows has six retired teachers and we will be featuring three of them in this newsletter.

Ruth Daulton received her education from Ohio University and began teaching high school students right out of college. Ruth taught Language Arts at South Webster HS and Nauvoo HS in Ohio, and also taught at Barboursville HS. Ruth always wanted to be a teacher. She said her favorite thing about teaching was learning the individual students and their personalities. She said looking back on all those years, "I dearly loved every minute of it."

Resident Spotlight Sue Clay

Sue Clay received her education from Cumberland College in Williamsburg, Kentucky and graduated from Morehead College in 1940. She initially wanted to be a nurse, but followed in the footsteps of her mother and sister to become a teacher. Sue taught first grade at Oakview Elementary in Ashland, Kentucky and remembers one year where she had 48 kids in one class. Her most memorable time teaching is the six years she worked with the Toy Band. She said she would go to bed at night hearing bells and cymbals in her sleep.

Resident Spotlight Jackie Green

Jackie Green received her education from Marshall College. She spent her entire teaching career at Hite Saunders in Huntington where she taught 1-5 grade. Jackie said her favorite thing about teaching was being able to interact with all the children. When asked what her most memorable thing about teaching was, she said it was her last year of teaching when Jack Perkins was her principle. Jack's mother-in-law Julia Brooks is a resident of Midland Meadows, so Jackie gets to see him a lot since moving to Midland Meadows.
